

This worksheet is for the exhibitions
Body Language & Construction Sites on view until July 28, 2013

DIRECTIONS: Go to Lubeznik Center for the Arts. Look at the art in the Hyndman Gallery on the main floor. All the works in this exhibit are photographs. They are different from photographs you may have taken of friends or things you see in nature. The photographer carefully created the scenes first and then took photographs of the constructions. Find the artwork that will help you answer the following questions.

1. What is the artist's name who created the photographs about a monkey named Hank?

2. What material does artist Ernie Button use to make his landscapes? _____
3. Artist Kristin Eakin's photographs are of a certain room in the house. Name that room.

4. What did she put in the room to make it look strange? _____

NOW GO TO THE GALLERIES UPSTAIRS.

5. The sculptures by Mitch Messina look like they are made of steel or bronze, but they are not. What materials does he use? _____
6. Find the artwork titled Construction of Gender by Lynn Duggan . List two more items you can identify in this work.
 1. Birds _____
 2. _____
 3. _____
